

Monitoring schedule

It's important to us that our monitoring visits work well for communities. For this reason, dates may change because of local circumstances, including the impact of local and national emergencies.

Our teams will work closely with iwi/Māori organisations, community organisations, and government agencies in the lead up to a visit. If you have any questions about a visit to your region, get in touch with the regional manager or contact us via email on info@icm.org.nz

Our monitoring schedule usually takes 14 weeks, with two to three weeks visiting in a community. The 14 week period ends with a shareback report.
